We dedicate the 1990-91 Edition of the Pacemaker to Karuna Sayeed, M.D., to thank her for her years of selfless dedication and contribution to the students of UOMHS.

Dr. Sayeed was graduated from Osmania Medical School, India, with a Doctor of Medicine degree, where she also completed a rotating internship. She completed a pathology residency at Grace General Hospital in Winnipeg, Canada, and was a house physician at Bishop Clarkson Memorial Hospital in Omaha, Nebraska, prior to coming to UOMHS. The breadth of her knowledge and expertise as a clinician and teacher have touched this university since 1970. Dr. Sayeed is an associate professor of pathology, and also serves on a number of university committees. She is married to Sayeed Hussain and has three children, one of whom is Shoub Sayeed, a 1990 UOMHS Doctor of Osteopathy graduate.

Aside from her impressive credentials, Dr. Sayeed is most valued by the class of '91 because of her tireless dedication to the students of this university. She never loses her appreciation of what a medical education is about and takes very seriously the task she has been entrusted with. No student is ever turned away from her office. To those who have studied under Dr. Sayeed, she has always been a personable teacher and friend.

We, the Class of 1991, consider ourselves fortunate and grateful to have had her highly valued contribution to our education.

Dr. Sayeed, your generosity and genuine care have meant much to us and we affectionately dedicate this edition of Pacemaker to you.
Dear Graduate:

I congratulate you on your completion of one of the most difficult educational programs that any student can undertake. Your degree assures the community that you have performed credibly and that you can now be entrusted with the responsibilities of caring for your fellow man. You have a right to feel proud of this achievement. However, I urge you to temper that pride with humility.

The years ahead will find you engaged in caring for your patients. You will bask in the thanks of the grateful people whom you attend and whom you help. However, there will also be many days when you will be beset by deep frustration because of your inability to alleviate the suffering of good people.

I hope you will come to think about disease as a mortal enemy which must be overcome by physicians like yourself. In order to do this, you will have to continue your studies, both in postgraduate training programs and in continuing education settings. It is my hope that you will be motivated to be a constant learner and a caring practitioner. If you are, you will bring honor to yourself and credit to this institution, your alma mater.

Congratulations and good luck,

Let's do the "Kilmore Shuffle."

The "Boz"

The laid back approach.
The Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter. □

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery. □

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me. □

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive co-operation, and never by word or by act cast imputation upon them or their rightful practices. □

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still. □

Oath of the Podiatric Physician

Upon my honor, and without secret evasion or mental reserve, I declare that I will accept the moral and the legal responsibilities as well as the privileges which become mine as a member of the profession of Podiatric Medicine.

Those talents with which a beneficent providence may have endowed me will be devoted to aid those who may choose to entrust themselves to my judgement, my care, and to my honor.

In serving my patients I will administer to their needs in a professional manner to the best of my ability.

I will abstain from all intentional harm and wrong-doing to my fellow citizens, and especially from abusing the soul or the body of those who entrust themselves to my professional care. I will refrain from overindulgence of any kind.

In my association with human-kind, both within and without my professional life, I will endeavor to do unto others exactly as I would that others do unto me and mine.

In all good faith, so far as may lie in my power, I will support my profession and will do what I may to advance its best interests even at the sacrifice of my personal advantages.

In all instances will I do that which will reflect credit and honor on this my chosen vocation.

AND LABS
The third-year class found themselves with first-year schedules. The once-free afternoons were again occupied with labs and lectures. The labs presented the students with practical, hands-on experience. Skills and techniques such as surgery knots, as well as assessing trauma patients, were learned in preparation for upcoming clinical rotations.
CLINICAL SCIENCES: PATIENT PACKAGING AND HANDLING
The podiatric medicine course was rather mundane with the absence of Dr. Perlman. However, we had excellent lectures by Dr. Hake, Dr. Nack, Dr. Hunt and Dr. Johnson.
The cardiovascular course taught students detailed anatomy and physiology of the heart and vessel system. Dr. Deavers and Dr. Kilmore spent a great deal of time working with the students on the basics of the ECG. Learning to read an ECG strip was an integral part of the course. We also learned clinical pathology from doctors such as Dr. Hoff and Dr. Peterson.

The course was a very good introduction to clinical cardiology and we thank all of the instructors for their time and talents.
HEMATOLOGY

The hematology course was well-organized by Dr. Sayeed and was exciting, interesting and informative. Laboratories taught students blood drawing techniques, culturing and microscopic procedure.

G.I.

The G.I. course, the first for the D.O. students, was a wonderful overview of the digestive system. Ulcerations, gastric cancer and colo-rectal surgery were covered. Interesting, always challenging, G.I. was a favorite for many students.

The cornerstone of the G.I. surgery lectures was Dr. Reed. The D.P.M class didn’t get the opportunity to hear him lecture, because he was called to duty in Operation Desert Shield/Storm. We pray for his safe return. His talents for teaching are missed by all.

Mark and Ben attentively listen to Dr. Daly’s lecture.
The respiratory system taught at UOMHS gives students a detailed anatomy and histologic study of the airway, bronchi and lungs, while also giving an overview of clinical pathology of the respiratory tract. Respiratory function labs enable students to "get familiar" with instrumentation used in pulmonary testing. Overall, the class was an excellent introduction to clinical respiratory diseases that we will encounter in our rotations.

Brian demonstrates the proper technique to sniff someone's breath.

Below: "Okay, Tony, it says here that when I exhale, you inhale." "Okay, Joe."

Sid demonstrates how he relieves his constipation.
In the great tradition of Newton, Einstein and Plank, Dr. R. Daryl Phillips undertook, once again, to unravel the arcane mysteries of Bio-Majical theory for the students of CPM&S. Though at times baffled, students were treated to superb lectures. The course was very enlightening and rewarding.

LOWER LIMB ANATOMY

Lower limb was one of the best classes of the year for the DPMs. Dr. Meetz, Dr. Krueger and Dr. Kneussl did an excellent job of teaching the class. Now, instead of saying, "The leg bone is connected to the foot bone," we can now rattle off "the tibia and fibula are connected to the talus; the talus is connected to the..."

AND HAPPENINGS AROUND UOMHS
ORIENTATION WEEK

It had finally happened. The Class of '94 was about to begin. It was a hectic week, and who could I ask for help? Who would be my study partner? Would I ever lead a normal life again? Where are the parties? These were some of the top ten questions asked that week. Little did we know that the best times of our lives had just begun!

"First, we heard speeches by university officials."

"Then we heard speeches from student organization leadership."

"And not finding what we needed, we panicked back at the bookstore."

"Finally, already $16,000 in debt, we were driven to drink at the SOMA bash!"

Every booth was trying to lure the gullible first-years. Money changed hands to make one an "official" member of a club. The clubs with free cookies and pizza got the most attention—until the food was gone. In the next room people were trying to sell old books, notes and exams dating back to 1920. Things on Club Day weren’t much different from any flea market, which is why it was fun.
On November 6, 1990, Sigma Sigma Phi and Pediatrics Club sponsored the annual lip-sync contest known as Airband. Future medical professionals with a hidden desire to be the next "Milli Vanilli" entertained an enthusiastic crowd. A panel of faculty judges awarded prizes to the top performers. The proceeds from this year's event were donated to the Children's Habilitation Center.

On Wednesday, September 19, 1990, IPMSA in conjunction with SOMA, held a fundraiser for the American Diabetes Association. In line with the Hawaiian theme, the dance was held at the Des Moines Botanical Center. More than 180 students attended, and a net donation of $306 was made to the A.D.A. In addition to 60 door prizes and free refreshments, the evening was kept alive with several contests including the hula hoop and limbo.
SOMA DRUG FAIR

October 1990, SOMA sponsored a one-day pharmaceutical fair which was well attended by faculty, students and staff. Fifteen drug company representatives provided the UOMHS community with product information and promotional gifts.

You say it rectally Q.I.D.?

Sorry, Jim, they are out of freebies

Historically, Mohammed moved the mountain. But our Mo brought us the Drug Fair.
Health Fair 1990, in maintaining consistency with its predecessors, was a tremendous success. Lisa Lennon (D.O. '93), with the aid of Roy Thomas (D.O. '93), Mike Randall (D.O. '93), and David Boesler, D.O., as faculty advisor, managed to successfully organize, assemble, and execute this ever increasingly complex annual event. This year, approximately 700 people attended and over 200 complete physical examinations were performed. The D.O. students examined patients for everything from blood pressure to structural abnormalities while the D.P.M. students performed the ever popular foot exam and cholesterol screening. The P.A.s educated all of the attendees on the past, present, and future of the Physician Assistant profession.
HEALTH FAIR 1990

Additionally, the P.T. students performed grip strength analysis and screened for carpal tunnel syndrome. All in all, Health Fair 1990 was overwhelmingly rewarding not only for the lucky patients who attended, but for the future healthcare professionals as well. A special thanks for their time, effort, and support is extended to the Pathology Department, the Health Fair Committee, clubs, and the many faculty and students who volunteered their time.
As always the Student Council sponsored party was a howl! Roche Ramos and her twin sister showed up as well as a whole host of medical students who were reserved and calm. OK, but they did show up!!!
The University student body was one of almost 100 supporting municipalities, businesses and organizations that worked on the event. Students did everything from unloading cars filled with paint, motor oil, batteries, and insecticides to separating paints. Jay Anderson organized the school's work crew who helped in the collection of 9,300 gallons of motor oil, 1,400 lead-acid batteries, and 17,200 cans of paint.

The Waste Busters!!!

Rob Eells helped to collect oil.

Deb H. snoops through all the boxes of paint!
The Annual Semi-Formal was held Saturday, February 16, at the University Park Holiday Inn. There was food, fun, and dancing for those who attended. A special thanks to the social committee for such a successful event.
John in rare form!

The 2nd annual table dance by Cherie.

Sid gets the hug of his life.
Coffee House 1991 was a big success for 78 hours of planning. Many celebrities were on hand for the big event. Dr. Novey, from the ever-famous physical exam videos, showed us his wilder side. David Letterman and Paul Shaffer flew in for a mini-show along with Bart Simpson. By the way, Bart is really running UOMHS. Elvis (Stu Nelson) Presley was spotted on campus and agreed to do his first public performance since his alleged death. The Church Lady interviewed our very own Dr. E.P. Finnerty. Now wasn't that special! A big thanks to those students and faculty who continued the Coffee House tradition.
And the question is... who is the Bartman?

Isn't that special?

COMS of Beverly Hills.

We have a budget problem... raise tuition!

A little to the right, please.
CLUBS
STUDENT COUNCIL

This year has been quite fruitful. To list all of the completed Student Council projects would take up several pages, but to summarize: drug abuse recognition seminar, increase of over 200 percent in advertising revenues for the 1991 Pacemaker, new and improved format for The Auricle, institution of advertising for The Auricle, purchase of "activities board" in the atrium, initiation of a Student Council of the Year Award, expansion of the Pacemaker staff, and over $25,000 in improvements to the gym.

Hard work and dedication have certainly paid off for this year's Student Council.

The Pediatrics Club provides its members the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of the pediatric patient. This year's activities included: faculty and guest lectures, including Dr. Bill Koenig who spoke on Mayo Clinic’s Pediatric Residency Program; Air Band, cosponsored with SSP, with the proceeds going to the Children's Habilitation Center in Johnston; Pediatric CME in March; work with Special Olympics; bake sales; and bowling. Officers for 1990-1991 were: Dave Sandercock (President), Lezlie Painovich (Vice President), Mike Briones (Treasurer), Shef Massey and Dave Coffman (Secretaries).
The Podiatric Sports Medicine Club was designed to educate and involve its members in the new and exciting field of sports medicine. The goal of the club's sponsored events was to gain the special knowledge and experience needed to treat athletic injuries effectively. Some events this year have been a taping clinic, guest speakers, a basketball tournament, the Special Olympics run-a-thon, and an Iowa Cubs baseball outing.

Darin Serletic had to be convinced that Steve Saccaman could actually tape an ankle with his eyes closed.

This year the Mind in Medicine Society was active in presenting lectures to not only increase the awareness of Neuro-opsychiatry in the various fields of study, but also to use this information to help support students. This was achieved through lectures on stress management, hypnotherapy and other events.
FOOT SURGERY CLUB

During the 1990-91 academic year, the Foot Surgery Club sponsored various functions that served to facilitate an introductory knowledge of surgical techniques and procedures.

Activities consisted of videotapes of actual surgical procedures, scrub and suture clinics, as well as journal studies.

Club Officers: John Welchon, President; Todd Cline, Vice-President; Richard Seda, Treas./Sec.
Faculty Advisor was Dr. R. Tomczak

Neuropsychiatry Officers
President: Dona Brekke
Assistant Officers: Ed Lin, George Anadiotis and Hamid R. Amjadi

EMERGENCY MEDICINE CLUB

The Emergency Medicine Club was chartered in 1987 as a student auxiliary organization of the American College of Osteopathic Emergency Physicians. Currently the club boasts over 150 active members. The goal of the Emergency Medicine Club is to increase awareness of the subspecialty of emergency medicine to the students and university community. With executive board members, Donnie Linder as president, Shef Massey as vice president, and Tom Reinbold as secretary/treasurer, at the helm, the members were exposed to many aspects of emergency medicine.

Professionals from the local area and speakers known statewide for their specific interest gave their time to educate our members. Topics included ballistic gunshot wounds, cults and gangs, street drugs, pre-hospital care, burns and their management, pediatric medical and trauma emergencies, and an exciting presentation on aeromedical transport given by the Life Flight crew at Iowa Methodist Hospital. We also had case presentations by local emergency room physicians.

Fund raisers this year included the annual A.C.L.S. pin and algorithm sale. This year we also sold pocket masks and started a new fund raiser. Under the coordination of Shef Massey, the club is now able to provide certification in Pediatric Advanced Life Support (P.A.L.S.).

"OK, now, Lisa, that's ABC—airway, breathing and C-2 manipulation."

This page of the emergency medicine club is dedicated to our club advisor and friend, Dr. Dennis Reavis, trauma center physician at Mercy Hospital. Dr. Reavis was called to active duty to serve in Operation Desert Shield/Storm. We pray for his safe return home.
PANDA PALS

Ten years ago, Jo Ann Zimmerman created Amanda the Panda as a way to help children with cancer cope with their illness and therapy. Today, Amanda also helps children who are grieving the death of a loved one. The Panda Pals Club is a support network for Amanda and these very special children.

The twenty-six members of this year's A.A.W.P. participated in such activities as a potluck for this year's members, a three-on-three female basketball tournament for the university, and the third annual slumber party. Educational events were not forgotten. With Dr. Rebecca Goldenberg’s help, a session on rotation and residency “do's” and “don'ts”, sterile technique principles, proper scrubbing, gowning and gloving techniques, suturing and knot-tying techniques, and below-the-knee casting procedures were covered. The A.A.W.P., which supports women at the national level, would also like to thank Dr. Daly for sponsoring our club for the 1990-91 academic year.

The second annual A.A.W.P. basketball tournament was fun for all. First place went to the P.T.’s, second place to the Toe-jammers (DPM '92), and third place to the Heel Spurs (DPM '93). Special thanks to the guys who helped out with the officiating and score keeping.
The National Podiatric Basketball Tournament was held in Chicago at the Guardian Angel Gym, April 18-20, 1991. The women's team won the First Annual Women's Tournament. Dawn Cooper and Jen Davies were selected for the All Tournament Team, as well as Lisa Rechkemmer who was awarded MVP. Adam Frasch was selected for the Men's All Tournament Team. The men's team took home the third place trophy. Jenifer Davies was player-coach for the women. The men's team was coached by Dr. Whitmore and Dr. R. Johnson. Linda Bratkiewicz was our team's behavioral science specialist (team guru)!
PI DELTA HONOR SOCIETY

Pi Delta is a national honor society established to recognize students for academic achievement. It’s open to DPM students at the end of their second year, who are in the top 20 percent of their class academically, and third year DPM students who are in the top 25 percent of their class academically.

The Student Osteopathic Medical Association (SOMA) is a national organization and is known as "The Future of Osteopathic Medicine." SOMA is solely comprised of DO students and deals with issues and functions that will benefit the students. SOMA started the year with the very popular orientation party that welcomed incoming UOMHS students. In the fall, SOMA brought the Drug Fair to UOMHS and provided students the opportunity to meet with drug company reps and receive information and promotional items. SOMA sponsored the annual equipment sale in November. This provided students with information on medical equipment and the opportunity to purchase equipment at very low rates. National Board questions were solicited and compiled for Parts I and II of the DO boards. These were made available to DO students to assist in studying for boards. This year, for the first time, speakers were brought from the Public Health Service and Kirksville NOW loans to help students in planning their financial lives. In January, UOMHS hosted the regional conference, with students from California, Missouri and New York. Knowledge was shared among the schools and greatly benefited all the students in attendance. One guest speaker was a fourth year student from a 1,500 bed AIDS hospital in New York. Updated information about AIDS was presented and SOMA will be starting AIDS awareness classes at Des Moines area schools because adolescents are the fourth highest risk group in the AIDS population.

A new community service project was established and implemented this year in conjunction with the American Cancer Society. Many Des Moines area elementary, middle and high school students were taught cancer preventive medicine. Sponsored philanthropies included an Hawaiian dance with IPMSA for the American Diabetes Association and Run for the Gold for Special Olympics.
Case studies were provided biweekly to provide students with the clinical knowledge of history and physical exams. The aspects of surgical correction were discussed in each of the studies. Case studies in surgical oncology were provided by club advisor, Kendall Reed, D.O. Other topics included obstetrics and gynecology, thoracic trauma and surgical profession and residencies. GI surgical applications were reinforced with an autosuture staple clinic in the dog labs.

AMERICAN MEDICAL WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

AMWA is an independent network of women physicians and medical students who share many of the same professional and personal values and concerns. Our local chapter at UOMHS is devoted to support of each other and active involvement in service projects within the community. Our activities for the year were successful and included: an AIDS seminar, two blood drives, a "Dressed For Success" style show and makeover presentation and Christmas candy canes delivered by Santa "Breithaupt" Claus.

NOWPA

National Osteopathic Women Physicians Association
NOWPA, formerly known as Delta Omega, was established in 1904 as an organization that is designed to answer questions about being a woman in osteopathic medicine. NOWPA's goals are to help future DO's reach their full potential, to provide a national network of services for women students and to meet established osteopathic physicians. NOWPA has established academic scholarships that are awarded to third and fourth-year students for their dedicated services to the community and to their women colleagues.

The UOMHS Beta Chapter of Sigma Sigma Phi, the National Osteopathic Honor Society, is a fraternal organization based on academic achievement and community service. On campus, SSP members conduct tours for prospective students, sponsor the annual "Post-Gross Toast" for the first-year students to celebrate the completion of anatomy, and conduct an internship and residency forum. In addition, SSP selects the recipient of the Betty Chu Memorial Award, an award given to a first-year D.O. who, like Betty Chu, achieves a good balance between the roles of student and mother. SSP also cosponsors the annual lip-sync contest, Air Band, to raise money for the Children's Habilitation Center in Johnston, Iowa.

ACGP

The student chapter of the American College of General Practitioners in Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery ACGP, Beta Chapter, is the second oldest of the fifteen osteopathic medical colleges. ACGP is different from other student clubs on campus since it is a national organization composed of students and physicians. The purpose of Beta Chapter is to educate students through presentations about a wide range of issues that they will face once in practice. This year's activities have included a series of presentations on various topics by pharmaceutical representatives, male/female genital exams, and a series about opening a medical practice. The president and treasurer attended the ACGP national conference in Washington, D.C. and learned about the way things are run in the real world.

MINORITY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

We, the ethnic minority students of the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences, UOMHS, unite to promote ethnic student equality throughout UOMHS. The purpose of our student association organization is to promote the recruitment and retention of minority students, effectuate fellowship among all students, assist in obtaining and maintaining tutorial programs, seek sources of financial assistance, establish and enhance participation in all osteopathic medically related activities by all members, increase visibility, and provide a channel of communication among minority students.

As editor of The Auricle this year, I felt the time had come for a change. I was disturbed that The Auricle, in the past, was under-read and under-utilized as a means of intercampus communication. My goal became to transform The Auricle into an eye-catching, information-packed paper, with the intent of providing "something for everyone" (students, faculty and administration).

Indeed, The Auricle received nothing short of an overhaul; what once was a four-page typed format, is now an eight-to-twelve page newspaper-like layout, containing such sections as faculty feature articles, Arts & Entertainment, Classified/Personal, Thought of the Month, photos, cartoons and puzzles, community advertising, etc. However, these changes necessitated the expansion of The Auricle staff from an editor and co-editor to include an arts and entertainment director, advertising director, and a freelance writer.

It is no secret that with all these changes, the layout and production time of just one issue requires many hours. However, this is of little "cost," for the response from fellow students, faculty and administration has been overwhelmingly positive. On behalf of The Auricle staff, I know this praise carried us throughout the year, making all our invested time uniquely rewarding.

I would like to thank all the students and faculty who directly contributed to The "new" Auricle. Your support and participation is what made these changes possible. It is my hope that this new format will continue, as well as improve over the years. I have thoroughly enjoyed being editor and wish my successors all the best.

Sincerely,

Linda Petter, '93 D.O.
Editor (1990-1991)
Editor's Note:
Thanks to everyone who helped. It was a rough year but we endured. Different people helped at various times during the production. A special thanks to Tonni Bacoat and Brenda Spraggins who stuck with me the whole year. We could not have made it without you.

This year was also different in that we had the wife of a first year student, Karen Slaughter, help us through most of the year until their first child was born. I would also like to thank Scott Harris who was my co-editor for part of the year. When things got really hairy, Twyla Ostercamp came on as copy editor. Last but not least, a very special thanks to Connie Galbraith in Public Relations for doing the really hard job of deciphering and pointing out our mistakes, misspelled words and names. Thanks again to everyone who helped.

THERE IS A DOCTOR FOR ALL OF YOU.
BY EDUCATION, TRAINING, AND CHOICE.

One specific type of physician is qualified to care for all of you. To care for every aspect of you as a person—your physical well-being, emotional health, your nutritional needs, and those of every member of our family.

An Osteopathic Physician is a family oriented doctor—a general practitioner or other specialist—someone who recognizes you as a person with needs that extend beyond the part of you that hurts on any given day.

It's good to know that in this world of fragmented medical care, someone still cares for all of you.

The officers, trustees and members of the Iowa Osteopathic Medical Association salute you, the future of osteopathic medicine.

Our best wishes as you join us in caring for the whole person.

Oakland General Hospital is the kind of hospital that adds to your practice. Modern. Innovative. Dynamic. Cooperative. A teaching institution. It sets a high priority on the needs of its medical staff. It understands the physician-patient relationship and the dynamics of practicing medicine in today’s competitive marketplace. And its physicians agree:

“Oakland General Hospital has financially supported many physicians who wished to open their own practice following their residency. Without this support, this endeavor would be financially prohibitive for most physicians.”

Marie Awd, D.O. — Family Practice

“My relationship with Oakland General has lasted over 20 years, and I have continually seen the hospital go that extra yard — and then some — for physicians and their patients. That type of commitment is what has kept me here and will continue to.”

Phillip Neuman, D.O. — Family Practice

If you’re looking for practice opportunities or just a great hospital at which to practice, call Oakland General Hospital.
