

TEACHINGPHYSICIAN

Your Information Resource for Precepting

---

How to Make the Most of TeachingPhysician.org

We have purchased a subscription for our preceptors to TeachingPhysician.org. The subscription lasts for one year from the time of purchase, so use the website as often as you like. Please access instructions below in section "How to Access TeachingPhysician.org".

What is TeachingPhysician.org?

TeachingPhysician.org is a just-in-time resource for community preceptors and faculty that offers content written to help them precept medical students. It offers videos, quick tips, answers to frequently asked questions, and links to in-depth information on topics such as:

- Orienting a Learner
- Precepting Principles
- Teaching Strategies
- What to Teach
- Giving Feedback
- And much more...

TeachingPhysician.org helps preceptors do their jobs more effectively. It helps medical schools and residency programs recruit, train, and retain community preceptors and meet accreditation requirements for faculty development.

When Should You Visit TeachingPhysician.org?

- When you have a teaching question that needs an answer “right now”
- When you need to earn CME credit
- When a new medical student arrives
- At mid-clerkship
- Before evaluations
- When you need a quick brush-up on specific topics

How to Access TeachingPhysician.org

1. Locate your Shared Username and Password:
  - a. Check your email for a registration notice from your institution
  - b. If you can't find your password, check the most recent Focus of the Month email sent by TeachingPhysician.org
  - c. Contact DMU COM Clinical Affairs directly at: Jamie.Loffredo@dmu.edu for your password.
2. Go to TeachingPhysician.org/login and enter your login credentials
3. Choose a place to start learning (see next section)

TEACHINGPHYSICIAN

Your Information Resource for Precepting

Where to Start

There are four easy ways to find content on TeachingPhysician.org:

- 1. Pick One of 12 Sections as a Starting Point

TeachingPhysician.org is divided into 12 sections built around topics. Begin at the Content landing page to see a section overview.

- 2. Use the Topic Index

If you're looking for something specific, go to the Topic Index for a comprehensive list of every content page on TeachingPhysician.org.

- 3. Follow a Learning Path

Learning paths guide you through content that has been curated to meet specific learning objectives.

- 4. Read the Focus of the Month Archive

Every month, TeachingPhysician.org sends out an email highlighting content from the website. The Focus of the Month archive gathers these emails into one place, providing you with easy access to specific subjects and related pages.

Visit the “My School” Document Hub

Visit the My School page after logging in: your institution may have added helpful information or important documents you'll need for precepting.

Even if your administrator hasn't added anything yet, your administrator's contact information is listed on this page.

Help with TeachingPhysician.org

Visit the help tab on the top ribbon of the home page for common questions. If additional assistance is needed contact bhischier@stfm.org for general questions and rbiggs@stfm.com for technical assistance.

Report Your CME Credit

Each section has a CME Quiz on its landing page. Once you've taken the quiz, download a certificate of completion and report your CME credit at AAFP.org.

This Enduring Material activity, TeachingPhysician.org, has been reviewed and is acceptable for up to 40.00 Prescribed credit(s) by the American Academy of Family Physicians. Term of approval begins 03/15/2016. Term of approval is for one year from this date. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.