PACEMAKER 1989

The Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter. □

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery. □

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me. □

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive co-operation, and never by word or by act cast imputation upon them or their rightful practices. □

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still. □

1989 Pacemaker Dedication

Each year the graduating class of the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences selects an outstanding faculty member to whom the Pacemaker will be dedicated. The Class of 1989 has chosen William J. Dyche, Ph.D., to receive this honor.

Dr. Dyche has served the University and its students in a number of capacities through the years. After receiving his Doctorate from Pennsylvania State University, he joined the faculty of the Department of Anatomy in 1976 and later served as department chairman. He then became the University's Associate Dean for Pre-Clinical Affairs, holding that position until he accepted the appointment as Dean of the College of Biological Sciences in January, 1989.

Most of us will remember Dr. Dyche as an extremely knowledgeable and stimulating professor who even in our first year made his lectures important and real to us by incorporating relevant case studies. Those of us who had the pleasure of working with him more closely in his role as Associate Dean know him as an able administrator and efficient taskmaster. Students in the College of Biological Sciences will recall his dedication to the Physician Assistant Program, his leadership of the Health Care Administration Program, and later his transition to become Dean of the College. All of us, however, will remember him as a consummate professional.

As we leave the University to begin our professional careers, we want to thank you, Dr. Dyche, for your encouragement, your good humor, and most of all for your tremendous efforts to provide a quality education for all University students. It is in appreciation, then, that we dedicate the 1989 Pacemaker to you.

Office of the President

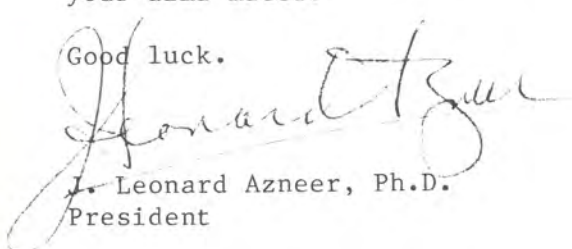

Dear Graduate :

Congratulations on your successful completion of one of the most difficult professional programs that a student can undertake. Your reward is the degree you have received. Other members of the community understand how difficult it is to complete a medical program and they all accord you a special status in the community with corresponding rights and privileges.

When you began your medical studies, you faced an awesome challenge. You met that test and have been rewarded. A more awesome challenge confronts you now; namely, your career as practitioners in the healing arts.

I wish you good fortune as you undertake the practice of your special area of the healing arts. I have confidence that you will do it well. I believe you will be motivated to be competent and caring practitioners. I pray that you will bring honor upon yourselves and reflect credit upon your alma mater.

Good luck.

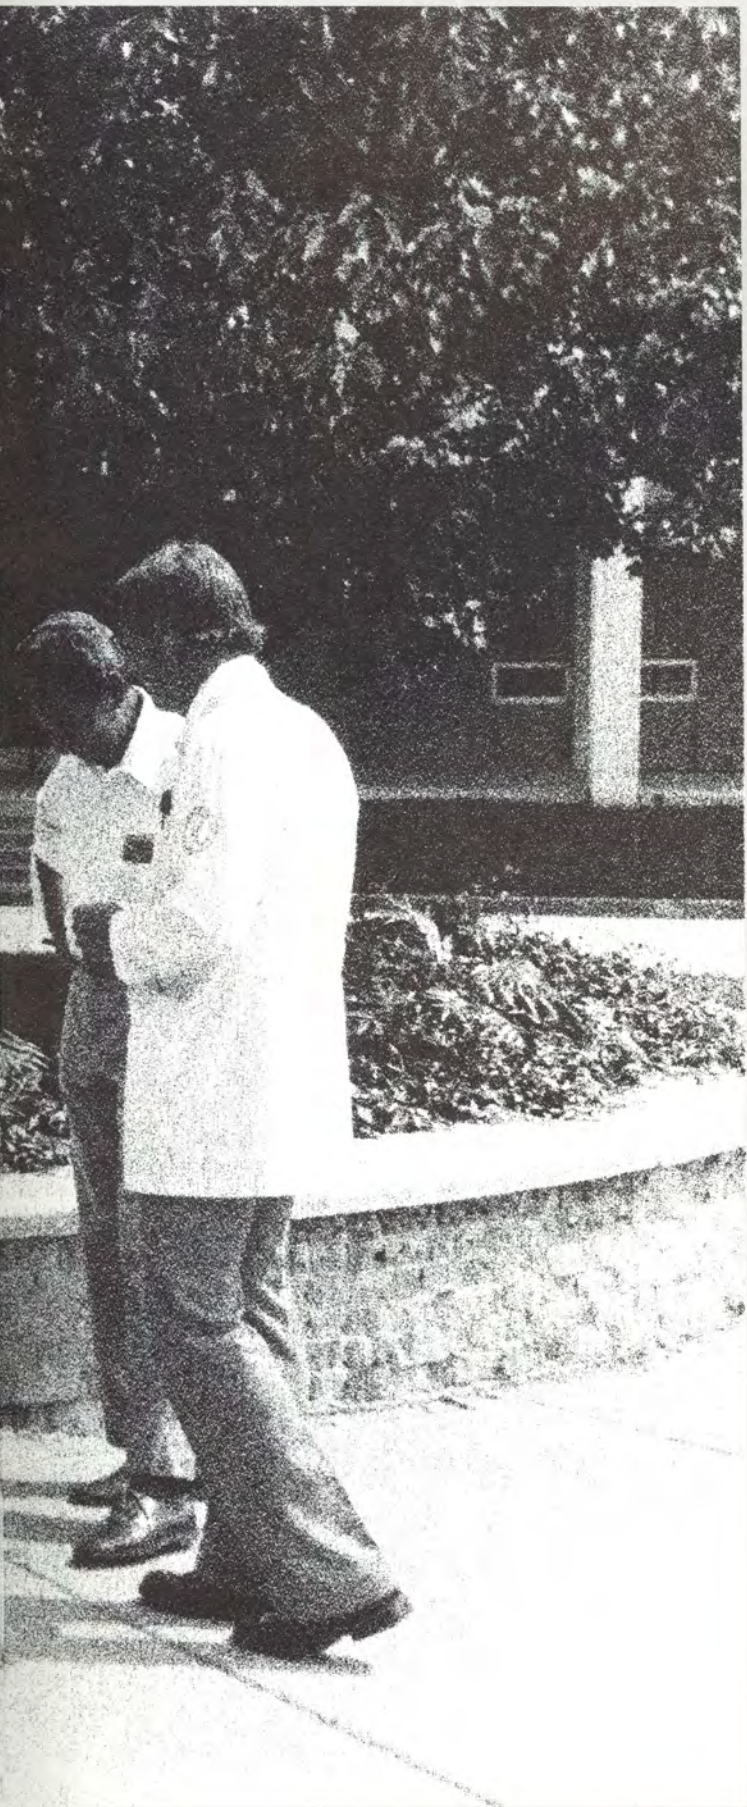

J. Leonard Azneer, Ph.D.

DERMATOLOGY

---

During Dermatology Dr. Elmets taught us that knowledge is more than just skin deep. With only two weeks, we merely looked at the surface problems. Dr. Elmets' sense of humor made us itchy for more.

Bob Mead greets Dr. Elmets, the only instructor we can remember from this course.

RHEUMATOLOGY/ORTHOPEDECS

---

After Dr. Heithoff stated that you didn't have to be at the top of your class to be an orthoped, we all started setting up orthopedic rotations. The only thing better than his slides were his test questions; finally, a lecturer that treated us as colleagues.

Frank Matalone has a secret. Matteo, Jim, Kevin, and the Ecp wander obliviously.

Steve White auditions young stars on the casting couch.

It doesn't get any more fun than this.

HUMAN REPRODUCTION

Pardon me, gals.

No one will forget Drs. Turke and Zelnick, however the highlight of this system took place on a cold, windy morning at an 8 a.m. lecture. The Big E and his sidekick Stan showed up to the female sexual arousal film in their bathrobes. By the time the cheering stopped, the film was over, and our heroes were out the door.

Now if any of my patients are not named Mary, well....

NEONATOLOGY

---

As we neared the end of our classroom studies, neonatology presented us with some useful clinical material. We essentially discovered that the smaller the newborn, the greater the problems, and the more intense the medical management.

Dr. Cooper demonstrates osteopathic treatment of the newborn.

PSYCHIATRY

"I don't know about you, but after I learned about paranoia, manic depressives, split personalities, psychotics, and affective disorders, I started placing myself and my classmates into certain categories. The DSM-III said I was a neurotic, psychotic, manic depressive, borderline sadomasochistic, paranoid schizophrenic with delusions of grandeur. Boy, I'm glad I'm not crazy."

---

INTRODUCTION TO

---

CLINICAL PRACTICE

---

Our last class in Des Moines included legal issues presented by Lawyer Crook, a fashion show so we could "dress for success," and anything else that could be squeezed in before we began our rotations.

GI/NUTRITION

Welcome back to second year--and what a welcoming committee--GI was definitely not the course to acclimate us gently into sophomore year, especially with a 96-lecture final. Dr. Semon confidently took charge with sometimes difficult questions to swallow! Nutrition followed GI and was supposed to be the "picnic" course of the year. Bad news if you took that advice to heart because Dr. Spreadbury hardened a few arteries during his exam.

Jack proceeds in his never-ending quest to stump every lecturer at COMS.

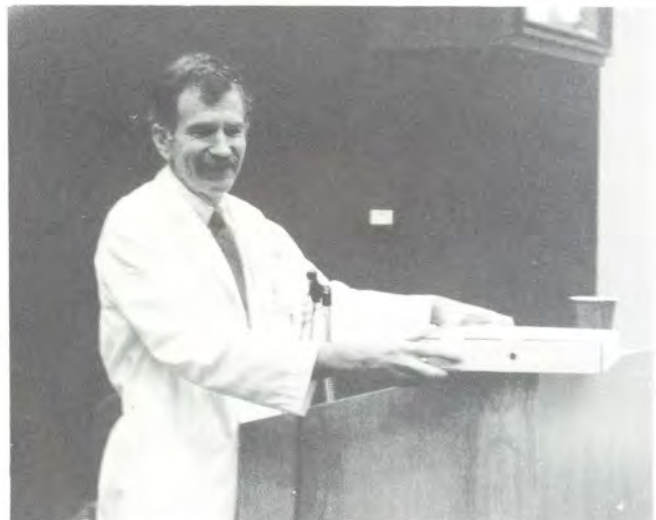

Steve ponders the idea of Dr. Spreadbury's nut and herb pizza.

Conference time.

Mmm-Mmm good!

Go for it, a little cholesterol won't kill you!

CARDIOLOGY

If you thought that the only thing you needed to know about cardiology was that the heart is in the middle of the chest and it pumped blood throughout the body, you were sadly mistaken. Putting the anatomy, physiology, pharmacology and pathology all together, it added up to 116 lectures of pure----- (you fill in the blanks). Dr. Hoff challenged the best of us with PVC's, PAC's, SVT's, etc.. Drs. Kilmore and Deavers were no joy either with the cardiac drugs and physiology.

Jim accidentally turns up the voltage.

Dr. Hoff defends his views of cardiology.

We didn't want anyone to go out on rotations without at least passing this one very important strip. In fact, we can safely conclude that if you do not answer this question correctly, well you probably need to go back to second year. Yeah, right! Answer on p. 80.

- Choices:
- A. Sinus rhythm.
  - B. WPW Syndrome.
  - C. Second degree A-V block.
  - D. K+ toxicity.
  - E. None of the above.

HEMATOLOGY

---

Talk about an alphabet soup kind of class with only 6-7 letters! Try to chew on CLL, ALL, AML, CML, ITP, TTP, STP, CCP, DIC,... it can get kind of confusing after a while. Dr. Brown was also like a cool spring breeze. So cool that when it came time to take the exams our blood ran cold for a couple of hours. By the time the third exam came around we really needed the vacation to forget all those syndromes and diseases.

Gee Deb, you look a little pale. Do you need some blood?

I nailed them with my questions, how did they do on yours?

Alright, who put a urine specimen in here?

Answer: Choice C.

Hematology's favorite Christmas song (Tune: "Jingle Bells")

LEUCOCYTES

*Running through your veins
Pulsing all the way
Vessels for the blood to go
Rushing all the day*

*The heart propels the blood
To where its needed most
To tissues that supply our bods
With things of which we host*

Chorus:

*Leucocytes, monocytes, rushing all the day
Oh, what fun it is to cruise down the arterial way.
Leucocytes, monocytes, lymphocytes are seen
Colorful erythrocytes from the liver to the spleen.*

OMM

---

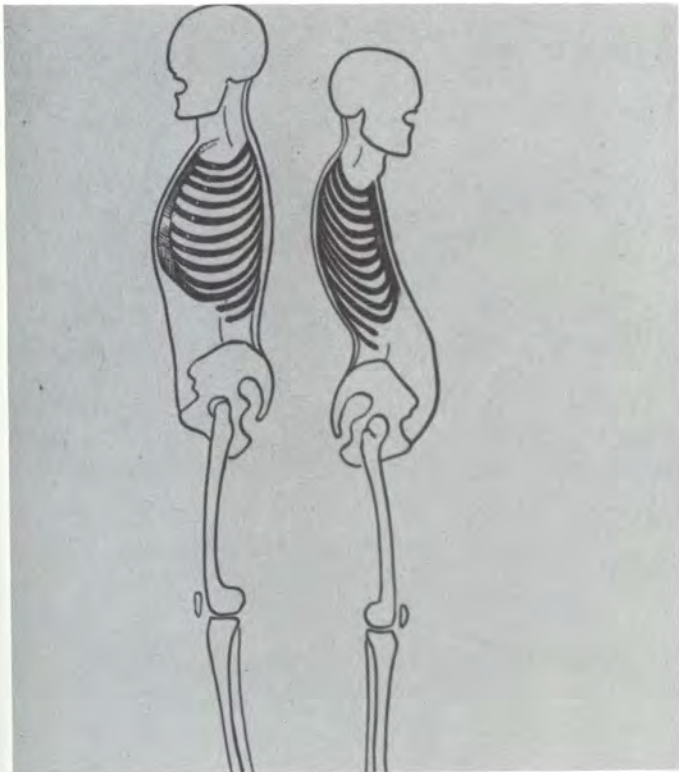

From upslipped innominates to side-slipped occiputs, from CCP to the philosophy of Dr. A.T., we thrusted, realigned and allowed fascia to unwind. We articulated, palpated, and evaluated; hyperflexed, perplexed, and treated the upper cervical complex. We pressed on tender points and compressed on S-I joints; we MacMurray -, Drawer -, and Apley - tested knees, and for 90 seconds held a position of ease. The future of our skills holds no bounds, for we were exposed to it all during OMM Rounds!

Dr. T. gearing up to give us straight talk.

Adam tugs listlessly on Bill's hand.

The new techniques of "quick weight loss OMM"?

Oh yeah, I can really feel those bones movin' now!

---

RESPIRATORY

---

Take a deep breath and hold it! Respiratory acidosis develops and you begin hyperventilating to blow off the excess carbon dioxide. What is this characteristic of? It's either a lecture-induced coma from Dr. Terry, or the time required for Dr. Shumate to present 50 hours worth of material.

lkdv' $! $ **&jtfkdjd %*0mvl!t!

Blow, blow, blow, blow, blow....

---

ENDOCRINE

---

Shouldn't you be in class, young man?

Hey Jack, that's a great idea, I'll try it next time.

Aaah... it's Springtime. The flowers are blooming, and the birds and bees are doing their thing. What a great time to start Endocrine. It sure helped explain the hormonal imbalances many of us were experiencing. It was also a time when the gunners were beginning to panic about Boards, and normal people were in a state of crisis deciding where to go for spring break. The endocrine system had a great staff of professors, and they truly did a great job!

Right: Is it live or is it Memorex?

RENAL

Welcome to ELM PARK and to the good old days when urine was "taste-tested" to diagnose. Just trying to determine what the true meaning of hypo-, hyper-, and iso- natremia, volemia, and kalemia was gave all of us symptoms of SIADH and psychogenic polydypsia. And of course, Dr. Senty's lectures were almost as exciting as passing a kidney stone. Renal sure gave some new meaning to "scooping the loop".

See Terry, that's all you need to know about renal.

Definitely not the ideal place for a field trip.

One way to test renal function.

Chris and Mark engage in humorous conversation at the class picnic.

Left: Yeah, years ago in India I was a national champion in long distance running. I easily ran 20 miles each way to school every day because I didn't have a bike like all my friends did. I could put all these guys to shame, but then came the tragic accident while playing flag football. That terrible triad injury still bugs me today. Now the only thing I can contribute to the sport is to pass out water to these worthless weekend warriors at these meaningless events.

NEUROLOGY

---

It's about that time of the year when jeans and going to class are not conducive to one's good mental health. Dr. Wolfe also began his tenure as lecturer-/clinician at UOMHS and with all the neuropathies, myopathies and epilepsies he showed us, it's thankful to be alive and walking. For a rookie he did a fine job behind the podium and a great job writing those test questions. Keep up the good work!

Dr. Wolfe.

Looks like Vince could use neurological workup.

Hey Jack, that's a great idea, I'll try it next time.

In Memory

Michael R. Galinis, D.C.
1953-1989

Michael came to UOMHS seeking to broaden and deepen his already considerable skills as a healer. At 33 he left a very successful chiropractic practice in Michigan to become an osteopathic medical student. Throughout his life, and as he approached death, he repeatedly expressed a desire to be of service.

Michael truly loved us all and wished us well in our careers. In his last days he had remarked on numerous occasions how he had not met a fellow student that he did not like. He gave freely of himself to everyone he knew. He offered his prayers, emotional support, knowledge of study techniques and expertise in manipulative medicine.

Because Michael was a very spiritual man who held sacred all forms of life, he would be honored that the student body chose to plant a tree as his living memorial.

In a way, Michael is the first patient that we've lost. A humble reminder of our fallibility as physicians and healers. He was not a statistic, not "the brain tumor in room 35". He was a real person--a friend--that we all knew, respected and loved, and whose death we mourn.

Oath of the Podiatric Physician

Upon my honor, and without secret evasion or mental reserve, I declare that I will accept the moral and the legal responsibilities as well as the privileges which become mine as a member of the profession of podiatry. □

Those talents with which a beneficent providence may have endowed me will be devoted to aid those who may choose to entrust themselves to my judgement, my care, and to my honor. □

In serving my patients I will administer to their needs in a professional manner to the best of my ability. □

I will abstain from all intentional harm and wrong-doing to my fellow citizens, and especially from abusing the soul or the body of those who entrust themselves to my professional care. I will refrain from overindulgence of any kind. □

In my association with human-kind, both within and without my professional life, I will endeavor to do unto others exactly as I would that others do unto me and mine. □

In all good faith, so far as may lie in my power, I will support my profession and will do what I may to advance its best interests even at the sacrifice of my personal advantages. □

In all instances will I do that which will reflect credit and honor on this my chosen vocation. □

PERCEPTIONS

To explore is to observe the timely present,
To observe is to understand the phantom past;
To understand is to gain knowledge of the future,
with good insight and intentions to last;
To rise to the occasion in a single draw,
To yearn for the chance to survive;
To look at a calloused heart is perception,
but to change its course is the gift of life;
The quest for change is the avenue of approach,
The golden opportunity yields to the road of success . . . with work;
To struggle for right and to refrain from wrong,
is the moral response to the quest of courage;
To overcome disgust is to prophesize faith,
and to endure frustations is to outplay burdens;
So explore your horizons with a new attitude, and never give up on your valuable dreams regardless of their altitude;
Hold your head as proud as a peacock,
but looking down on no one as below your needs or desires;
Lifting one another as you make your climb,
while heading for your chance to stake your claim;
The perceptions will create a moral and earth-shaking tone
for others,
to follow the lead;
And the self-fulfillment with its unlimited gratifications, will meet you at that multi-dimensional door and will gracefully,

.....WELCOME YOU HOME!.....

90th ANNIVERSARY CONVOCATION

A convocation marking the University's 90th anniversary was held November 18, 1988. Approximately 650 faculty members, students, alumni, board members and friends of the university attended the convocation and reception in the university's Olsen Medical Education Center.

The convocation provided opportunity for formal recognition of the university's growth and progress during its 90-year history.

University President J. Leonard Azneer, Ph.D., began his message by quoting from a speech given by Judge Josiah Given at the laying of the cornerstone for the new college building in 1899:

"Healthy has been the growth of this institution and such growth insures lasting success. Tonight, we dedicate an institution which shall prove a lasting monument to education in Iowa, and which shall shed abroad a light which will add to the intelligence of the state and prove a blessing to humanity." Judge Given's former residence was used as part of the college during its early days.

Illustrating the university's growth, Dr. Azneer contrasted the college during World War II--when one class had only 14 students--with the university today. Total enrollment in the university's three colleges is 1,150.

During the convocation, Dr. Azneer conferred the S.S. Still Distinguished Service Award on Myron S. Magen, D.O., F.A.C.O.P., dean and professor of community health science at the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Presenting the award, Dr. Azneer expressed appreciation for Dr. Magen's contributions to osteopathic medicine and education.

Dr. Magen, a 1951 COMS graduate, served as chairman of the pediatrics department at the college hospital in Des Moines in the late '50s and early '60s. As dean and professor at the Michigan osteopathic college, Dr. Magen was recently instrumental in establishing medical education and research linkages with institutions in several foreign countries. Dr. Magen is a member of the board of trustees for the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences.

Dr. Azneer also conferred the S.S. Still award on convocation speaker Roger J. Bulger, M.D. Dr. Bulger, a Harvard Medical School graduate, is president of the Association of Academic Health Centers in Washington, D.C., and is clinical professor of medicine at Georgetown University Medical Center.

In his address, Dr. Bulger noted the significance of the University's location in America's heartland, which he said symbolizes the nation's traditional values. As a parallel, Dr. Bulger said osteopathic medicine symbolizes the most important elements of the therapeutic relationships that are too often forfeited as technology assumes a greater role in health care.

"It is because of these technological advances that we are in a situation where we are beginning to have to measure whether it is worth paying for some of the things it is possible to pay for. We are faced with having to make tragic choices. We don't know how to limit things, but maybe we will have to," Dr. Bulger said.

Noting the high per-person cost of some forms of treatment and preventive medicine, health care has become a societal issue in which cost-consciousness has become mandatory, Dr. Bulger said. To contain costs while delivering the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people, Dr. Bulger suggested that physicians and health care professionals alike must be at the forefront of the cost-benefit analysis.

Immediately after the convocation, a student plaque in the Tower Medical Clinic courtyard was unveiled. The plaque was placed as a permanent reminder of the quality of education at the university and as an encouragement for future students.

ORIENTATION WEEK '88

Welcome to UOMHS and to the city of Des Moines. The culture shock wears off in time, and Orientation Week is here to help you get acquainted with your classmates, the university, the teachers, standing in lines, and of course, Scantron sheets. Highlights include the Presidential reception, the OMM lecture, the SOMA party, and the All-School Picnic. (Photos of Des Moines courtesy of the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce Federation.)

No Dorothy, we're not in Kansas anymore. But we're close!

Hey, who is this guy? Is he on our schedule? Is there a notetaker for this lecture?

Court Avenue--the place we all soon discover.

We paid $15,000 for this?

Hey guys, we're just kidding. After a few beers, the first year doesn't seem all that bad.

SOMA shows everyone that we haven't forgotten how to party.

Learn it, love it, live it.

Orientation is a little soon to be asking about the lottery, but yes it is possible to leave Des Moines for your rotations.

CLUB DAY

Join one, join them all--yes, it's Club Day, that annual event where all of the clubs on campus show us why their club is THE one to join. So bring a pen and your starter checks, and let the fun begin!

"Please won't you be my neighbor?"

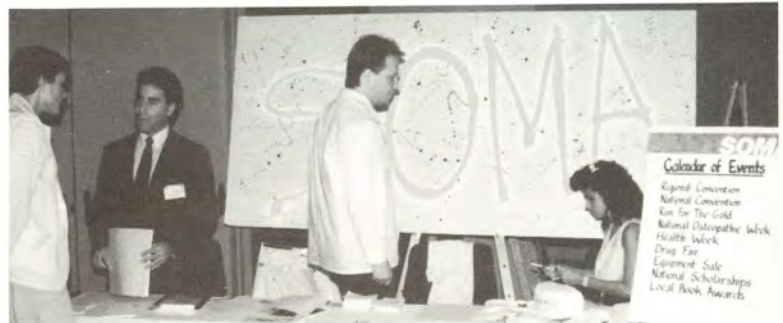

Excuse me Bob, can I borrow your date?

"Do you think anyone will notice that I've switched to Close-up toothpaste?"

Terry contemplates the inner philosophy of OMM.

SOMA officers practicing the old "bait and switch" technique.

IOWA STATE FAIR

Mark works under "state of the art" conditions—heat, humidity, crowds, and no table.

It can only happen in Iowa! Where else can you sit on a cow, listen to a concert, eat a lot of junk food, and have a UOMHS student take your blood pressure? The students of UOMHS provided free blood pressure and blood glucose testings and cancer screenings for attendees of the 1988 Iowa State Fair. It was estimated that over 6000 people took advantage of these services during the Fair.

In addition to demonstrating their always-perfect blood pressure testing skills, the students were given the opportunity to introduce the public to the concept of osteopathic medicine and its strong presence in Des Moines and the state of Iowa.

Those who participated in the project not only remember the extremely hot weather conditions, but also the lines of people who waited for their services. The people expressed gratitude for the screenings and trust in the students' abilities. A special note of thanks goes to Michael Hunt, chairman of the event, and to all of the students, faculty, and staff who participated in this very successful community service project for the people of Iowa.

HALLOWEEN

The location was untraditional, but it didn't seem to matter to everyone who came to the annual UOMHS Halloween party. A warped mind was the only necessity, for there is no other scientific explanation as to how Mike Winsten won the best costume contest with his alter-ego rendition of The Mutant Scantron Boy From Mars. Thanks to the Student Council social committee for organizing a great bash!

UOMHS Family Holiday Party

The social committee did it again, but this time it was for the kids. The jury is still out deciding who had more fun--the actual kids, or their parents and other students who stopped by for some music, movies, cookie decorating, and the chance to sit on Santa's lap. Santa probably has never gotten so many requests for "70's" in his life. Congratulations for a job well done to those who organized the party.

HEALTH FAIR '88

On Nov. 12, 1988, the largest UOMHS Health Fair to date was held at the Tower Medical Education Center. This year it was co-sponsored by WHO TV-13 and attended by over 1250 residents of Des Moines and surrounding communities. Co-chairpersons Tommy Foushee ('91 DPM) and Debbie Schwab ('91 DO), along with Beth Reuter ('91 DO) were the motivating forces behind this year's event. Faculty, administration, and all three colleges bonded together to serve the community.

STUDENT COUNCIL

UOMHS Student Council, 1988-1989

Throughout the 1988-89 school year, the UOMHS Student Council has grown in countless ways. Through our growth, Council is able to represent students in every aspect of university life. Each college within the university is unique and special and it is through Student Council that we all come together as a health professions team.

Thanks to everyone for a challenging and educational year. A special "Thank You" goes to Dr. Patricia Cottrille and Mr. Terry Simpson whose help was invaluable. We appreciate the time and support council members and club officers have given to Student Council and the Executive Board.

SOMA

The Student Osteopathic Medical Association (SOMA) is the national professional society of osteopathic medical students, recognized by the American Osteopathic Association and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. With local chapters at each of the 15 colleges of osteopathic medicine, SOMA offers a variety of benefits and programs to prepare students as they enter the osteopathic profession.

The UOMHS chapter of SOMA began the year with an orientation week party for all members and new students. Events and programs during the year included the drug fair, equipment sale, paid preceptorships, and national conventions in Las Vegas and Ft. Lauderdale. Mark Karabajakian organized a relief fund and raised $1000 to benefit the earthquake victims of Armenia. Based on participation, $4000 in national scholarships and $2000 in local book scholarships were awarded to members from UOMHS. The officers for 1988-89: Jay Goswick, Pres.; Doug Lewis, Vice Pres.; Denise Donarumma, Sec.; Mark Karabajakian, Treas.; and Jean Garbolski, NBR.

Chapter president Jay Goswick and national president Jennifer Baskin in Ft. Lauderdale.

And they're off! SOMA's annual "Run for the Gold" raised $2500 for Special Olympics. Organizers of the event were Larry Holland and Marty Jenter.

For the first time in many years, the UOMHS chapter of SOMA has national representation. Congratulations to national chairpersons Doug Lewis (Legislative Affairs) and Beverly Nixon (Research and Development), pictured here with Steve Koerner from Kansas City.

ACGP

The ACGP is a student affiliate of the American College of General Practitioners. The purposes of this club are to render loyal and honest service to the osteopathic profession and public; to develop continuing medical or medically related education programs; and to promote general practice through the education of the professional, the students, and the lay people. The club is also active in presenting guest speakers who emphasize general practice office procedures and in organizing programs for student clinical rotations with physicians active in the ACGP. Club officers: Larry Holland-Pres., Joe Kennedy-VP, Vince Rimanelli-Treas., Mary Lou Ernst-Secr.

The Eli-Lilly trippers.

SURGERY CLUB

Surgery Club enjoyed a busy year. Attendance and enthusiasm remained strong for all events. Thanks to Dr. Reed, the surgery residents, and Lynne, our members were taught how to scrub, gown, suture, tie and staple. Surgical videos followed meetings and pharmaceutical presentations at Grand Rounds. In progress is an effort by our President, Marty Jenter, to have students eligible for membership in the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons.

Marty has helped other schools to establish their own surgery clubs, and hopes to form a national student organization under the A.C.O.S. Like the new Logo? Pins are for sale!!!

PANDA PALS

Who is that Masked Panda? Any answers Dave Visokey?

Amanda the Panda was originally created by JoAnn Zimmerman to offer emotional support to children living with cancer and their families. This year, Panda Pals was started to function as a support network for Amanda the Panda through volunteering and fund raising events. The Panda Pals' mission is to help Amanda attain her goal of being a special friend to children who are either seriously ill or grieving over the death of someone close to them. To accomplish this, Amanda offers her unconditional love through counselling, camps, special activities, and of course, personal visits with lots of Bear Hugs!

Amanda turns 8. HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Amanda plays soccer at the First Annual Panda Pals Soccer Tournament.

Club Day! Amanda the Panda with Mindy the Clown. What a Cute couple!

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE CLUB

The Preventive Medicine Club is a new club committed to furthering the advancement of disease prevention. We have worked to promote healthier lifestyles by sponsoring a nutrition seminar, aerobic classes, and cooking classes. We also offered Nutritional and Fat Analysis at Health Fair '88 and speakers for public schools on topics ranging from smoke and smokeless tobacco, cancer prevention and screening, and steroid abuse. The '88-89 PMC Executive Board: Richard Bernstein, President; Beth Reuter, Vice-President; Bill Crane, Treasurer; Jason Wong, Co-Secretary; Greg Cohen, Co-Secretary.

SNPMA

The Student National Podiatric Medical Association is a College of Podiatric Medicine and Surgery organization which respects the bylaws of its national organization. This organization displays full dedication in service that not only benefits minorities in Podiatric Medicine, but the college community as well. Activities sponsored by SNPMA include a charity drive of toys, food and clothing for economically deprived families for Thanksgiving and Christmas, a car wash, bake sale, cholesterol screening in conjunction with the Podogeriatrics Club, and a project for Black History Month.

SIGMA SIGMA PHI

The UOMHS Beta chapter of Sigma Sigma Phi, the National Osteopathic Honor Society, is a fraternal organization based on academic achievement and community service. The groups' goals are aimed at promoting the osteopathic profession, and servicing both the student body and the Des Moines community. On campus, SSP members regularly conduct tours of the university to interviewees. While showing the prospective student the campus facilities, SSP members answer questions about classes, student loans, clinical years, extracurricular activities, housing and the Des Moines community. Our local chapter also matches funds from the National organization to purchase equipment, such as a computer, typewriters, and teaching stethoscopes to aid students. Other SSP sponsored events include the annual internship and residency forum, a "Post-Gross Toast" to congratulate the first year students on the completion of Anatomy, and the annual Betty Chu Award honoring one first year D.O. mother who, like Betty Chu, achieves a good balance between the dual, and often conflicting, roles of mother and medical student.

Community events this year include the annual air band contest to benefit the Children's Convalescent Home and a holiday party at the Children's Convalescent Home where the SSP members joined the children in caroling, bingo, and tree decorating. SSP also sponsored Suzanne Laurel in a "Stair Climb" to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Dr. Leopold is the club's sponsor.

EMERGENCY MEDICINE CLUB

Emergency Medicine has progressed into one of the most sought after specialty fields in the medical community. Accordingly, the club has been established as a resource that can contribute to the education and welfare of Osteopathic medical students at the pre-graduate level.

Last December at the A.O.A. convention in Las Vegas, the national student chapters of the American College of Osteopathic Emergency Physicians were established. This affiliation with our specialty college has opened up many new possibilities for growth and community interaction.

Club members actively participated in the U.O.M.H.S. Health Fair by performing C.P.R. demonstrations in an effort to educate the public. The Emergency Medicine Club also took top honors at the first annual "Club Day" competition.

PODOGERIATRICS

Officers: Pres.-Scarlett Kinley, VP-Barbara Stone, Treas.-Brad McCusker, Sec.-Bob Eckerstorfer.

The Podogeriatrics Club is a national organization of podiatric students interested in promoting the care and education concerning our elderly population. Club activities this year have included a cholesterol screening at Health Fair, nursing home visits with Podiatry faculty, an orthotics casting seminar, a series of lectures on aging, and weekly journal clubs. Our club officers and members have strived to increase their understanding of the geriatric population for whom we will provide podiatric treatment.

Derek, what happened to the rest of him?!

We never knew the neutral position could be so intense.

Could this be the beginning of a 4-eyed men's Podiatry Club?

Linda, we need a ml. of blood, not a liter!

American Women's Medical Ass'n

Our student chapter of The American Women's Medical Association had a very successful year. Under the direction of our President, Barbara Hodne, we managed to host two seminars jointly with AAWP on professionalism- Dressing for Success, and Hair and Cosmetic Make-Overs.

AMWA was busy coordinating our biannual Blood Drives, the first in October, and the second in February. For our efforts, we were recognized by the Des Moines Blood Center with a Community Service Award for our continuing support.

AMWA was also the recipient of the UOMHS Community Service Award for 1988. We were contributors to the UOMHS Health Fair by providing Self Breast Exams for the women who attended the Fair.

AMWA is a national organization of women physicians and associated personnel who are dedicated to improving the personal and professional well-being of its members and improving all aspects of medical care for women.

We are proud to represent this national organization and to provide a very necessary service to our student peers and the Des Moines community.

GERIATRICS CLUB

The Geriatrics Club provides students with the opportunity to explore careers in the ever expanding field of geriatric medicine. Students serve the senior community by providing blood pressure checks, giving lectures on such topics as arthritis and how to properly take medications. Geriatrics Club became the first osteopathic student chapter of the American Geriatrics Society this past year. Congratulations!

Hospice of Central Iowa gave a noon time presentation to the Geriatrics Club this winter. The speaker was more exciting than the picture shows.

Treas. Tom Wind, V.P. Kate O'Heelan, Sec. Deb Schwab, Pres. Chris Watson

A.C.N.

ACN was honored with the presence of Murray Goldstein, D.O. as a guest lecture. Many came to see the Assistant Surgeon General discuss the present trends of neuropsychiatry.

The American College of Neuropsychiatrists student chapter provides students the opportunity to explore careers in both neurology and psychiatry. In the past we have offered tours of psychiatric facilities, helped set up summer preceptorships, and had various speakers discuss current opportunities and advancements in these two fields.

Drs. Finnerty (ACN advisor) and Goldstein.

The UOMHS chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Osteopathic Medicine was formed in 1988. The group uses an educational slide show and script to present osteopathic medicine to the general public. College level advisors and potential medical students are the primary target audience. This organization is open to all D.O. students interested in meeting the club goals through public speaking in the Des Moines area.

Sports Medicine Club 1988-1989

Officers: Pres. Mike Adler, V.P. Ray James, Treas. Fred Vaca, Sec. Marco Krpan. The Sports Medicine Club's mission this year was to revive interest and increase membership. This was accomplished with membership drive parties and the popular Bowling Tournament. Membership increased by nearly 150 members and the bowling tourney drew 250 participants and spectators. Finally the club co-sponsored the end of the year Tri-Movathon, a popular annual school charity drive, making this a most successful year for the club.

The charter members of the Iowa Chapter of Pi Delta organized in the Spring of 1988 after accreditation with the national chapter. Pi Delta represents the top 20% of the Podiatric College for the classes 1989 and 1990. The objective of its charter members was to assist the student body of the University in the acquisition of a residency by sponsoring two seminars. In November 1988, a seminar on the fundamentals of writing a curriculum vitae, was presented by Ms. Billie Ruth Sucher. In May 1989 a seminar on residency interviewing techniques was presented by Dr. Mark Landry, Dr. Mark Johnson and special guest lecturer Ms. Jo King. The seminar included a morning lecture and an afternoon personal videotape mock interview with professional critiquing.

CMDS

The Christian Medical Dental Society is an interdenominational group of believers who meet on a regular basis for Christian Fellowship. The group is involved with several community projects promoting the cause of Christ. CMDS is open to all students and faculty from all the colleges in the University.

This year, our CMDS group met at noon on the first three Thursdays of each month. There were different guest speakers and different activities at each meeting. Some of the activities included Bible studies, filmstrip presentations, and social luncheons. There was a welcoming lunch held for all the incoming students in August. Another was held in November for the third year students leaving on clinical rotations. The guest speakers usually spoke on the fourth Thursday of each month at the prayer breakfast meetings. Among these special guests were Dr. David W. Leopold, Dr. James Barnett, Rev. Gary Clark, Mr. Bruce Strelow and many others. The 7 A.M. meetings were always well attended and inspirational.

In addition to our regular meetings, there were several other social events this year. In September, our annual Autumn picnic was held at Pioneer Park with Dr. Stuart Nelson as the guest speaker. Our CMDS group attended the Mike Warnke Concert at First Federated Church in October. Our annual Christmas party was held at the home of Dr. David W. Leopold. In March, our CMDS following had two major events. The first was an annual Iowa Student Conference with the CMDS Chapter from the University of Iowa Medical School. It was a great time to meet new friends and all were challenged by the guest speakers Dr. Lowell Bonds and Dr. Peter Boelens. The other event was the 28th annual Iowa Prayer Breakfast held at the Marriott Hotel in Des Moines. Several CMDS members attended and had the honor of hearing Senator Charles Grassley address them.

Our CMDS Chapter is grateful to the faculty members who supported our group this year. These include Dr. David Leopold, Dr. Gerald Cooper, Dr. Evelyn Celander and others. Finally, the purpose of our group can be summarized by the national CMDS slogan, "Not to Be Ministered Unto, But to Minister."

"As a first year member of the Christian Medical Dental Society, I was very impressed with the level of involvement this group showed this year. A special word of thanks must go to Dan Miller, the CMDS President. The group grew and reached out to others in a special way. The special guest speakers showed us how to be better Christians. The strength of this group comes through Faith. And this strength helped me to get through a difficult second year here at UOMHS. Let's keep the Faith going!" -R. Jelinek

U.A.A.O.

The Undergraduate American Academy of Osteopathy is the student organization of the American Academy of Osteopathy (AAO). UAAO's primary goal is to augment and enhance the understanding and learning of Osteopathic principles and manipulation. Under the guidance of faculty advisor Gerald Cooper, D.O., F.A.A.O., UAAO sponsored OMM workshops, review sessions, OMM table sales, bagel sales, and hosted guest speakers and physicians during 1988-89. Value Checks were sold and profits went to benefit Blank Children's Hospital. Club officers for the year: Terry Gilbert, President; Aldo Fusaro, Vice President; Debra Schwab, Secretary; and Lynne Hinterberg, Treasurer.

AMOPS

The Association of Military Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at UOMHS, while open to D.P.M. and P.A. students, is a student affiliate of the national AMOPS, a chartered AOA society. The UOMHS club is made up of students from all three services with a formal connection or interest in military medicine. They include persons in the Health Professions Scholarship Program (military scholarship) as well as those in the Reserves and National Guard.

The club attempts to introduce students to military medicine while serving as a central forum of information about military training opportunities and experiences. As in past years, we held two "Dining Out" evenings, a formal dinner for club members and their significant others, thereby introducing them to the unique traditions associated with an officer's formal mess. The club also sponsored several noon lectures with faculty members who have served on active duty.

"Hey guys, be all you can be!"

Vince: Jean, what are we going to do with page?

Jean: Do we have any pictures left Vince?

Vince: Don't answer my question with a question, Jean.

Jean: Maybe I'm just trying to avoid responsibility.

Vince: That's not like you Jean, get your act together.

Jean: Vince, think of it as editors' privilege.

Vince: BS Jean, that's just an excuse!

Jean: OK Vince, now that we've taken up most of the page with our ONLY argument during the entire year that we've worked on the yearbook, I think maybe we should just put some candid on the page, but make sure we get at least one of Jason.

Vince: That's a great idea Jean, I'm glad I thought of it. Hey, I've got an idea, how about switching all our rotations to Des Moines and doing this again next year?

Jean: No, I think we should award that chance of a lifetime to Ziegler and Winsten. After all, they're the one's who told us that this was a FUN job.

Vince: Another one of my brilliant ideas thank you.

Jean: Vince, BOTH ideas were MINE.

COFFEEHOUSE 1989

"Just Try to Stop Us" was the motto of this year's evening of music, comedy, and UOMHS parody. The music was sweet, the comedy a little naughty, and the parody dangerously close to incongruous. High-ranking UOMHS officials conspicuously seated in the front row were quoted as saying that "this was the best Coffeehouse, in their memory." And that's what it's all about . . . memories! Special thanks to Terry, Gordy, and Chris and all who contributed to a memorable three hours on Friday, May 12th.

Some of America's Brightest Osteopathic Medical Students Are Becoming Its Brightest Doctors at Union Hospital

How does a teaching hospital measure the worth of its medical education program?

It is measured by its commitment to education... by the expertise of its medical staff... and by its record of success in the health care field.

Union Hospital's commitment to education is evidenced by the key role its interns play on each physician's team. The expertise of its medical staff ensures that the Hospital maintains a high patient census, allowing interns to become involved in direct patient management not only on the medical floors, but also in the critical care areas. Union Hospital's record of success means that interns and residents are constantly exposed to innovation in technology, patient care and health services.

With 18 approved internship positions, and a medical education program consisting of 300 teaching beds, Union Hospital invites you to shape your professional goals amid the setting of a nationally-recognized community hospital.

Residency programs are provided in:

- Internal Medicine
- General Practice
- Emergency Medicine

Everything you want in a big city hospital without the big city hassle.

Botsford General Hospital. A leader in medical education.

Since 1946, Botsford General Hospital has been training some of the finest young physicians in the country. In fact, we've built a reputation as the premier teaching institution in the Osteopathic profession.

At Botsford, you'll learn in a two-hospital system, experiencing both a progressive, multi-disciplined community hospital and a bustling inner city hospital. You'll work with the latest technology, with the opportunity to continue to train in your choice of 15 specialty and sub-residency programs. Most importantly, you'll be challenged by some of the most progressive thinking in the medical industry from within our system, and linked medically and educationally with the leading medical centers in Southeast Michigan. But while an internship/residency at Botsford General Hospital offers many professional challenges, there's also personal satisfaction.

Southeast Michigan. A rewarding lifestyle.

Working at Botsford General Hospital is a study in contrasts. While you're receiving superior medical training, you're living in a town that does have a historic mansion for a community center, and doesn't have a skyline. You'll be surrounded by beautiful lakes, all-season sports facilities, and world-class art, music, and entertainment. You'll live only minutes from Ontario, Canada, and you'll be part of an organization that understands the importance of family. Ours...and yours.

Challenge. Choice. Community. It's all at Botsford.

THERE IS A DOCTOR FOR ALL OF YOU.

BY EDUCATION,
TRAINING, AND CHOICE.

One specific type of physician is qualified to care for all of you. To care for every aspect of you as a person—your physical well-being, emotional health, your nutritional needs, and those of every member of our family.

An Osteopathic Physician is a family oriented doctor—a general practitioner or other specialist—someone who recognizes you as a person with needs that extend beyond the part of you that hurts on any given day.

It's good to know that in this world of fragmented medical care, someone still cares for all of you.

The officers, trustees, and members of the Iowa Osteopathic Medical Association salute you, the future of osteopathic medicine.

Our best wishes as you join us in caring for the whole person.

Special thanks to Mary Ann Zug and Edna Lester from Public Relations, and Ann Koopal from the Art Department for all of their assistance and advice. Thanks also to anyone whose name may have been omitted, and to all who contributed pictures. We could not have done it without you!

Our goal for this yearbook was to recognize the "big picture" of the experiences we encounter during our very short time here in Des Moines. Rather than associating our years here with only labs, tests, and Boards, we should remember too, the beauty, the people, and the places that are much a part of our lives during our education. Pictures may be worth a thousand words, but if they can make even one memory, then our goal has been met.
