FOREWORD

Someone once said "An education is something no one can take away from you." We have attempted to follow this philosophy in preparing your yearbook. Its production represents the combined talents and energies of many of your fellow classmates. As you leaf through this book in the years to come, may it serve as a reminder of your formal education as well as an inspiration for your future learning.

A man's pride shall bring him low;
But the humble shall attain honor.
(29:23) Proverbs

We the class of nineteen hundred and sixty dedicate this book to

ERNEST V. ENZMANN, Ph.D.
in appreciation for his outstanding representation of those who teach.
The Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature’s laws and the body’s inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive co-operation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.
Drink Deep . . .

In Pleria, a region of ancient Macedonia, there was a remarkable spring. According to Greek legend, to drink from this spring was to obtain knowledge.

In reference to this legend the poet Pope wrote:

"A little learning is a dangerous thing; Drink deep or taste not the Plerian spring."

This bit of philosophy well befits the practitioner of the healing arts who must never cease to learn more and more of the human body, its health and welfare. May every doctor drink ever deeper of the spring of knowledge!

This organization serves as the integrating body of the social fraternities on the college campus. In addition the council has sponsored the IFC Ball, with aspirations of making this an annual fund raising function to raise proceeds for the endowment fund of C.O.M.S. The council has in addition helped to establish the school basketball team.
Intermission Drawing at IFC All-Fraternity Dance

The Winner
This organization is made up of a combination of elected student representatives and appointed faculty members. The council attempts to improve the students' association with the faculty of the college, not only academically but socially as well.

This year the group has proposed the issuing of Identification Cards for use by the students in the oncoming year; conducted the Pacemaker Ball, and the Freshman Welcome Dance; and were in charge of Skip Day activities.
On November 10, 1959, the Beta chapter of Sigma Sigma Phi was organized at this college. The group is an honor fraternity with membership based upon scholarship and service to our profession, our school, and fellow students.

The group's objectives are to further the science of Osteopathy; to improve the scholastic standing among its students; to bring about closer understanding between the student body and the officials and members of the faculties of the college.
Brother Joe Chirillo Receives Certificate at Graduation
The Newman Club provides religious, educational, and social activities for its members. Monthly meetings provide ample material for guiding the Catholic students toward the formation of conscientious ethical physicians.

This year the Club conducted several meetings at which guest speakers from within and without the profession gave interesting discussions. Several Newman members were invited to speak to the Newman Club at Drake University on the subject of Osteopathy. The annual picnic was the final event of the year.
Psi Sigma Alpha
National Scholastic Honor Fraternity

It is the fraternity's desire that each graduating group shall continue to uphold the principles of Psi Sigma Alpha, namely, to establish and promote better scholastic standing in our colleges, in that it will eventually better the profession, its colleges, and ourselves.

Regular monthly dinner meetings are held at which time guest speakers discuss topics of interest with the group. Our speakers include mostly physicians, but speakers from allied fields as well. The year's activities are topped off with the annual senior banquet in May.
The Season Closes
"SAVE IT!"

"AND THIS I LEARNED FROM T.V.!

"YES, YOU DO HAVE A PROBLEM!"

"SEE IT!
THERE IT IS, RIGHT THERE!"

"The essence of knowledge is to have it... to apply it..."

CONFUCIUS

With our realistic acceptance of this cornerstone of wisdom, comes an illumined understanding of the indwelling positiveness of all biochemical processes—and their intimate relationship to every patient. Your patient, Doctor, today—is more than ever before recognized as a biochemical entity, having the power of reproduction and metabolism in all of its parts... because it has life in them all. Thus, professional biochemical care for the patient is an integral part of the overall management of his condition... as it is... as it will be.

As creators of a distinguished line of biochemical formulations available to the profession, we invite you most cordially to avail yourself of the many helpful services of your Dartell distributor. He and the entire Dartell organization are eager to serve your every professional need.
